

Here at Lostock Hall Primary School we take data protection very seriously and have policies and processes in place to ensure that we comply with the UK GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018. We are committed to ensuring that we do the right thing with the information that we collect from our students, families, staff and Governors.

As part of The True Learning Partnership we are working with NexusProtect in order to ensure that we collect, store and use personal data fairly, safely and lawfully. Please see our Privacy Notice and Data Protection policy for more detail on how we do this.

The school's Data Protection Officer (DPO) is Nick Holden of NexusProtect. He can be contacted on governance@nexus-global.co.uk The Data Protection contact in school is: Graham Hamilton, and can be contacted via the school office on admin@lostockhall.cheshire.sch.uk.
